NEXT PROJECT 11 PARTNERS WITH JOERNS HEALTHCARE TO PROVIDE RENTAL PLATFORM

Hayesville, NC, March 2016 – Next Project 11 has entered into a partnership to provide Joerns Healthcare with the technology driving their new customer online ordering portal, MyJHC. The new portal will give Joerns' customers analytic tools to make ordering products easier and faster, improving patient care while lowering cost. The portal also provides access to Next Project 11's Bac-Track software, a designated program for monitoring and preventing HAI's due to cross contamination.

"The Next Project11 technology was created to improve healthcare through better information and analytics," said Scott McDaniel, Chief Executive Officer of Next Project 11.

"We are excited about this opportunity to provide our customers with these new analytics. The software will give the customer data that will reduce the cost of healthcare while improving patient outcomes," said Mark Ludwig, President and Chief Executive Officer. "The addition of these unique analytics will further strengthen our customers' ability to make the best purchasing and rental decisions based on their individual needs."

About Next Project 11

Next Project 11 is a software company dedicated to improving healthcare through better information and analytics. Next Project 11 provides robust rental management software, supplies marketplace portal, turnkey healthcare analytics, and ad hoc data analysis tools in the post-acute care industry. Next Project 11 has developed industry-leading tools such as Bac-Track to better understand infection control. Our unique dashboard analytics give the caregivers real-time information to help determine necessary measures to lower risk of cross contamination. Combined with our rental and purchasing Dashboard, the customer is able to make better-informed decisions to improve care and lower cost.
